FAMILY

Is blood really thicker than water?
Does a sibling feel the other's pain?
When a parent loses son, or daughter.
Can life ever be normal again?
Miles of Earth can keep us distant.
And it hurts to be far away.
But technology's closing the void.
So the planet seems smaller each day!
Yet we crave physical contact.
Not just "virtual" touch?
How important is I love you.
It means so very much!
Does absence grow the heart fonder?
I'd say it probably can.
I often just sit and wonder.
Why we connect so with our fellow man!
Well, friends are the family we choose,
aren't they?
A bond forged in trust and love.
Does the fabric of family outweigh it?
No, it's all level ground - push to shove!
So let's give thanks for humanity.
And all of the creatures on Earth.
To all in madness and sanity.
And recognise everything's worth
